Blue Enamel Pansy Brooch

Stamped 14K · Blue enamel & a white pearl · About 1 inch

A pansy is a small act of remembrance: a flower whose very name, from the French pensée, means a thought. In jewelry, it has long been a way of saying, quietly, "I think of you."

This one is worked in 14K yellow gold and blue enamel, with a round white pearl at the center, on a slender, curved stem. The reverse is stamped 14K.

The listing describes it as a 1-inch Victorian brooch, and titles it Heintz Bros. The photographs show the 14K stamp clearly; a maker's name is not clearly readable on the reverse.

A thought, in gold and blue, ready to pin close to the heart.
