Penguin Cork Pet

Solid American pewter · Changeable wine cork · Sculpted in Florida

A favorite bottle is soon emptied, but the cork can be kept: a small record of a celebration, a winter evening, or an ordinary night worth remembering.

This Penguin Cork Pet is sculpted by artist Lori Strickland and made in Florida, in solid American pewter. It is part of the Vino Menagerie collection. The penguin pulls apart so the cork can be changed, and a new memory set in its place.

It might keep the cork from a wedding toast, a holiday dinner, or a quiet night when a good bottle was shared and no one wanted the evening to end.

A little pewter penguin, ready to hold a memory — and to keep that small history close.
